

Daily Dose of Nature

Explore nature with a visit to Lacawac Sanctuary. Getting a daily dose of nature has been proven to:

- Create healthier, happier and smarter children.
- Increase creativity, self-confidence, academic achievement, and cognitive functioning.
- Reduce obesity, stress, depression and symptoms of ADHD.
- Foster a life-long appreciation for plants, animals, rocks, stars, and other elements of our natural world.

While not a medical diagnosis, “Nature-Deficit Disorder” is a real term coined by Richard Louv, author of Last Child in the Woods, to describe the negative effects that children and communities experience when they don’t get to enjoy the outdoors. The solution is only as far as your front door. Exploring nature can protect your child from Nature-Deficit Disorder.

LEAVE NO TRACE at Lacawac

Manage Your Dog

Others may not appreciate your dog’s company. If you are not sure, ask before allowing your dog to approach. Keep your dog nearby and under control. Carry and use a leash as required.

Pick Up Poop

Phew! Dog poop stinks, causes severe damage to the environment, and others can step in it. Pack a pick-up bag and always pick up your poop wherever it’s left.

Stay on Trail

Traveling on trail leaves room for wildlife and their homes. Shortcutting trails causes erosion. Get muddy! Step right through puddles. Boots dry overnight; plants take years to recover.

Trash Your Trash

Please take out all trash — yours and others’. Even organic garbage such as orange peels, apple cores and food scraps, take years to break down. Animals which feed on trash often die!

Leave It as You Find It

Picking flowers, collecting rocks, or picking berries may not seem to be a big deal, but it means others won’t have a chance to enjoy them. Millions of people visit Open Space & Mountain Parks. If each takes something, what will remain?

Share Our Trails

We all enjoy Open Space in different ways. Pay attention, expect to encounter others and be courteous. Yield to all.

Make Fitness Fun

Exercise doesn't have to be a chore. Fitness can be fun when you turn a walk into an outdoor adventure. Studies show that we burn more calories and gain more benefits from exercising outdoors in the fresh air and sunshine.

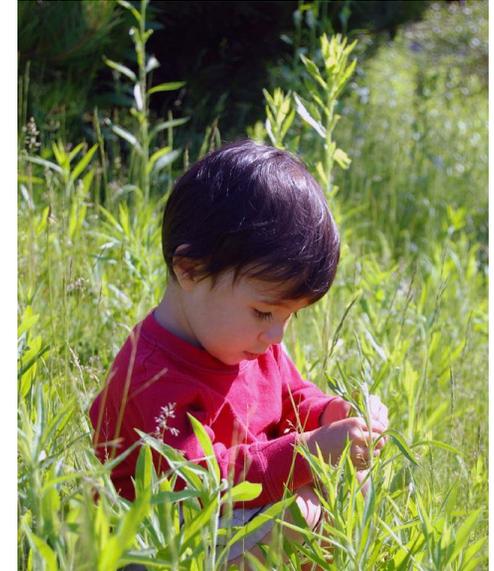

Unleash Your Child's Creativity

Kids have fun playing outside and taking in all the beauty of the plants and animals they see. Nature is inspiring, as evidenced by the children's artwork in this brochure and on our website. Head outside with some crayons or a digital camera to fire up your kid's imagination!

Nature Engages the Brain

Nature provides real hands-on learning, whether it's learning about the water cycle or about seasonal change. Studies show that the experience provides lasting benefits that help children do better in school, retain more information, and think more creatively.

Build Relationships

Children who are more involved with nature learn to better connect to the environment, to family and to friends. Spending time in nature can actually strengthen family bonds and improve social skills.
